Taking Action on Adolescent Literacy: An Implementation Guide for School Leaders

Judith L. Irvin, Julie Meltzer,
Melinda S. Duker

This book was developed for middle school, high school, and district leaders who want to help students improve their academic achievement through a focus on literacy. In it we describe a Leadership Model for Improving Adolescent Literacy whose components can and should be included in any literacy improvement effort to ensure that the effort is systemic and sustainable. The model is designed to illustrate how principals' traditional areas of responsibility, when seen through the lens of literacy, can be used to improve students' reading, writing, speaking, and thinking skills and have a positive effect on student achievement.
